MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

FROM:
Chief, Arms Control Intelligence Staff

SUBJECT: Briefing Book for NSPG Meeting, 13 September 1982

1. This memorandum and accompanying briefing book were prepared by DDI's Arms Control Intelligence Staff. Because of the sensitivity of this subject, this material has not been reviewed by the National Intelligence Officers for the USSR, Western Europe, or Strategic Programs -- as usually would be the case. I do not believe, however, that they would have problems with any of this material -- given the relatively small intelligence input to what are essentially questions of arms control philosophy and negotiating tactics. 2. This NSPG meeting now is scheduled for 1500 hours on Monday, 13 September 1982. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss:

-- what is to be done with Ambassador Nitze's "package deal"?

-- how to implement that decision with the Soviets, with the Allies, and with Ambassador Nitze?

This meeting is the result of the President's decision to discuss Ambassador Nitze's personal initiative with his Soviet counterpart, Ambassador Kvitsinsky.

3. The Table of Contents for this briefing book are on the left. STAT

4. Two new developments bear attention. General Boverie of the NSC Staff called me to relay a question you may be asked on Monday. TAB M has the question and an answer. Moreover, you need to know about the apparently growing Soviet anxiety over U.S. cruise missiles. See the NYT articles and a stimulating new DDO report at TAB N. It is conceivable that this increased emphasis stems from Soviet study of the package deal. STAT

5. Because of the sensitivity of this subject, I have made only two copies of this material and have not sent this book to you via the Executive Director and the Deputy Director for Intelligence. I will show them my file copy this weekend and on Monday.

6. If there is anything further that we may do to help you here, please call and let me know.
